JARS

EXCELLSENS
STRAIGHT TO TABLE:
EXQUISITE TREATS ARE BEAUTIFULLY SERVED

Traditionally, high quality foodstuffs have always been best kept in canning jars and many of today's gourmet patés, chutneys, preserves and sauces deserve the same authentic packaging.

Pont Packaging's Excellsens clear glass jars combine value-added aesthetic appeal with practical food storage.

Smart, light and easy to open with clip-top lids and an O-ring seal, the jars are totally hygienic to use, preventing food contamination or tainting the taste of food contents.

OUR PONT OF VIEW:

EXCELLENCE SHOULD BE PRONOUNCED EXCELLSENS!

Whether our customers are small independent food producers or large corporate clients, they all recognise the importance of strong packaging. Pont too knows that distinctive, high quality packaging is vital to success in the food and beverage sector and therefore offers a comprehensive range of bottles and containers, as well as closures and accessories. These can add real value to any product, be that an everyday consumable or an upmarket giftware item.

MINIATURES

PERFECTLY PACKED:
GOOD THINGS COME IN SMALL PACKAGES

Product presentation should never be compromised, whatever the size of the item. Arguably, the smaller the product, the stronger the packaging needs to be and this is reflected in Pont's mini jars range.

Glass mini jars offer attractive, hygienic packaging for individual pots of delicious jams, honeys or mustards and are a practical choice for hotels, guest houses, cafés and tea-shops. As a sample size they are also ideal for inclusion in gift box packages or food hampers.

BOTTLES

APPEARANCE MATTERS

The on-shelf impact of many sauces, oils, dressings and spirits is defined by distinctive packaging and traditional glass bottles have always been a popular vessel choice for these food products.

Glass bottles not only accentuate the visual appeal of their food and liquid contents, but, available in a range of elegant designs, traditional and modern, they also offer immediate product stand-out at the point of sale.

Pont Packaging always seeks to develop close and long-term partnerships with all its customers, reinforcing the reliability of its market expertise, design and sourcing capabilities. Furthermore, Pont continually invests in new patented moulds for bottles and jars to reduce customers' own development costs and satisfy their packaging requirements, be they standard or bespoke designs.

CAPS AND CLOSURES

TO TOP IT OFF. . .

Once the perfect container has been chosen, you can also look to Pont to assist with your closure. We provide a wide variety of closures including twist off or continuous thread caps, corks for bottles and jars and various pourer caps for oils and dressings. Many also incorporate tamper evidence for product security. With a wide range of styles, sizes and colours available, you can complete your packaging with a closure that adds value and individuality.

As well as providing an extensive standard range from stock, Pont's attentive customer service means we are always happy to discuss specialist options. From a customer's initial briefing through to the final product, we can help to define and design bespoke packaging and also advise on closure and labelling options for maximum presentation impact.

INNOVATION

FROM THE IDEA TO THE FINISHED PRODUCT

Good design goes hand in hand with innovation to create a unique product. Pont are specialists in innovative container design and to differentiate your product we have made bespoke bottles and jars more accessible than ever with lower minimum order quantities and more competitive tooling costs making them ideal for smaller run 'specials' or anniversary editions.

Focusing on the food, beverage and spirits industry we can produce a variety of shapes and sizes and then further enhance that design with embossing or decoration also taking into consideration product security with tamper evident neck finishes. Pont can assist you throughout the whole process from the initial design idea to the finished product on the shelf.

OUR PONT OF VIEW:

IT'S TIME FOR A NEW IDEA

As part of its customer service commitment, Pont invests in a an extensive range of patented container moulds to satisfy specific packaging needs. This, together with multi-warehousing capacities, enables Pont to develop and store extensive stocks of all products for rapid, reliable and on-time delivery Europe-wide.
